

PARENTAL CONSENT/AUTHORIZATION FOR CHILD'S OPTIONAL PARTICIPATION IN THE CLINCARD PROGRAM

Introduction:

You have decided to allow your child to participate in a clinical research study at Rutgers University, for which your child may be provided with some payments for participation in the study. You/your child may opt to receive these payments via a ClinCard, which is a specially designed debit card for clinical research. Note: You/your child do not have to sign up for this ClinCard option in order to participate in the study.

With the ClinCard, you/your child will also have the option to receive certain reminder text messages about the study on your/your child's cell phone and/or through email. These messages will remind you of your child's regularly scheduled study visits and let you know when payments made to your child are loaded on your child's ClinCard. You may consider the following information to help you decide if you would like to use these optional services.

The information provided in this ClinCard consent form is in addition to the consent form which you/your child signed in order for your child to be part of the study; we call that the primary consent form. You will receive a signed and dated copy of this ClinCard consent form for your records.

Purpose:

As a participant in the study, your child will receive payments to help cover the cost of travel and expenses. The payment amounts and the dates of the visits when your child will receive these payments are described in the primary consent form. The payments for completed study visits or other study activities will be loaded on your child's ClinCard.

Additionally, you/your child will have the option to receive updates related to payment reminders through text message and/or email message (standard text messaging rates will apply). You will have the opportunity to opt-in to receive these messages.

Note, ClinCard can provide the text messaging service to only one cell phone, so you/your child will need to decide which cell phone will receive the text messages should you/your child agree to receive ClinCard notices through text messaging. Also, ClinCard can send the email messages to only one email address, so you/your child will need to decide which email address will receive the email messages should you/your child agree to receive ClinCard notices by email.

What is my child being asked to do?

Greenphire, the company which developed the ClinCard, will act as an agent of Rutgers University to manage the payment and text messaging/email process. You/your child will be given a Greenphire ClinCard, which is a debit card that your child's study payments are loaded onto following completion of study visits. When a study visit is completed, the payment will be approved and loaded onto you/your child's card. The funds will be available within one hour of the completed visit, unless the study coordinator advises you that it may take a little longer. You/your child may use the ClinCard as your child chooses. Your child will be issued one ClinCard for the duration of your child’s study participation. If your child’s card is lost or stolen, you can contact ClinCard support at (866) 952-3795. This phone number is also on the back of the card. If your child does need a replacement card and you obtain it directly through the ClinCard customer support service, it will be mailed to your address. In that event, the balance from your child’s lost card will be loaded onto your child’s replacement card, minus a $7 replacement fee charged by the customer support service. Or, you may request a replacement card during your child’s next visit with your child’s study coordinator, who will provide you with a replacement card for a fee of $3.50, which will be subtracted from your child’s ClinCard balance.

What do the messages say and what do I/my child have to do?

The messages will not identify your child individually or include any reference to the study name or any medication your child may be taking. If you/your child decide to opt-in for the text messaging and email reminders, you/your child may receive:

- 1 payment notification after each visit
- 1 balance reminder after 5 ½ months of no activity

The text messages and/or emails will say the following:

How do I stop the text or email service, or "Opt-out"?

If at any time, you/your child wish to no longer participate in the text and/or email service part of the ClinCard program, you/your child may request your child's study coordinator to discontinue you/your child from it. The study coordinator in turn, will direct the secure computer system to stop texting and/or emailing you/your child with the ClinCard notices. This decision will not affect your child's actual study participation.

Do I/my child have to pay for the text messages?

The cost of messages will vary depending on your/your child's network carrier and on your/your child's per message transaction cost. You can consult your network carrier regarding your per message transaction cost.

Information that will be shared

In order to participate in this ClinCard program, as a part of the study, Greenphire will collect information about your child, including your child's name, address, telephone number, next appointment date, date of birth, social security number, email address, if applicable, and your child's 6 digit study subject ID code. All information is stored in a secure fashion and will be deleted from Greenphire's system once the study has been completed and the funds on your child's ClinCard have been exhausted. Your child's information will not be shared with any third parties and will be kept confidential.

Risk

As part of this payment arrangement, the study team may share this personal information with other persons at the University or Greenphire who are involved in these activities; these individuals have agreed to only use the personal data as described in this consent form. Once the study team shares personal data about your child with others, Federal privacy law may no longer protect it.

Will the study team or Greenphire be able to guarantee that I/my child will receive all of the text messages sent as part of the service?

No. The text messaging vendor will send the message to your/your child's cell phone number, but the text messaging vendor cannot prevent disruptions in Internet traffic or guarantee that your/your child's cell phone service provider will deliver the message to your/your child's cell phone. A number of things could prevent the text message from being delivered to your/your child's cell phone, including technical difficulties. If you/your child are out of your coverage area for a number of days, or if you do not turn on your cell phone for a number of days, your/your child's cell phone service provider may not deliver text messages that come in during that period. Thus, it is important that if you/your child elect to use this service, you use it together with other reminders.

Potential to receive an IRS 1099 Miscellaneous Income Form

If your child receives $600 or more in a calendar year in total payments from this study, or from other Rutgers's studies or programs, Rutgers University will issue to your child an IRS Miscellaneous Income Form 1099, indicating the total amount of the payments your child received from Rutgers in that tax year. Your decision to allow your child to receive the stipend payments through ClinCard or in another payment form will not affect Rutgers University's issuance of the Form 1099.
